

06/06/2014

MOBILE

PRODUCT SPECIFICATION: SE, NO

This document presents features of the Mobile Product (hereafter referred to as “Product” or “Service” as the context may require).

Product: Mobile

Country/market: SE, NO

OpusCapita reserves the right to change the Product’s features and this specification. The latest versions are published at www.opuscapita.com/terms

1. STRUCTURE – MOBILE

The standard Product base functionality consists of the always included features and respective standard/default settings. Within the base functionality there may be mandatory selections, which shall be agreed; the included optional features (options) shall be mutually agreed as well. A more detailed description of the specific scope of the Service is included in the Configuration Overview.

Selections and options may affect the pricing of the Product, and are stated in the Price List, applicable from time to time.

To be able to use the Product, the Customer needs to have an Agreement with OpusCapita and be connected to Data Management Product.

1.1 Base Functionality

Mobile services provides possibility to send SMS notifications of documents stored in OpusCapita’s eArchive service and accessible to end user via sending customers service portal.

The service requires usage of eArchive and Relayed Trust as prerequisites.

Input data will contain the document to be archived and the phone numbers of receiving end users.

Upon storing the document to eArchive and SMS message is generated and send to recipients telling them that they have received mail and that they should log on to sending company’s portal in order to view the document.

The correctness of the mobile number used and the right to approach end uses with SMS messages is the sole responsibility of the company using the service.

06/06/2014

1.2 Availability

The service is available in Sweden and in Norway for customers using eArchive and Relayed Trust.

1.3 Service activation

Service is activated either during enrollment project for new customers or as a service upgrade for existing customers.